The Child – The Heart of the Matter

Introduction

Early childhood education and care centre means premises used regularly for the education and care of 3 or more children (not being children of the persons providing the education or care, or children enrolled at a school being provided with education or care before or after school) under the age of 6 –

- (a) by the day or part of a day; but
- (b) not for any continuous period of more than 7 days.<sup>1</sup>

Licensed early childhood education and care centre (“licensed kōhanga or kōhanga” for the purposes of this document) means an early childhood education care centre in respect of which the service provider holds a current licence issued under the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008.

Te Kōhanga Reo is a total immersion te reo Māori whānau programme for mokopuna from birth to six years of age to be raised within its whānau Māori, where the language of communication will be Māori. Early childhood education in licensed kōhanga aims to promote young children’s learning and development. The operation and decision making of each kōhanga is the responsibility of the whole whānau within the guidelines set down by Te Kōhanga Reo National Trust Board. Some key mechanisms are used to ensure that licensed kōhanga provide a minimum standard of care, and to encourage provision of high quality care and education. These mechanisms include:

- The Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008<sup>2</sup> that set minimum standards, primarily on curriculum, ratios, service-size, premises and facilities, health and safety practices, management and administration. The purpose of the minimum standards is to ensure the health, comfort, care, education, and safety of children attending licensed kōhanga and therefore establish the level of quality standards that one would expect to find in a licensed kōhanga;
- Licensing, that is intended to provide public assurance that a kōhanga is able to meet the standards established in the regulations, and guards against the entry of services below the minimum standard into the early childhood centre education market;
- The Licensing Criteria for Kōhanga Reo affiliated with Te Kōhanga Reo National Trust 2008 which are deemed regulations prescribed by the Minister of Education, and used by the Secretary of Education to assess compliance with regulated standards of education and care;

<sup>2</sup> Note: this Regulations continue to apply under clause 4, Schedule 1 Transitional, savings, and related provisions. Also note, Schedule 26 Consequential amendments and revocations to the Regulations

- Compliance with Part C of the Early Childhood Education Curriculum Framework as prescribed in New Zealand Gazette<sup>3</sup> based on Te Whariki, which is New Zealand’s curriculum for early childhood education and provides guidelines for consistent and high-quality early childhood programmes; and
  - The involvement of whānau who may actively seek information about the licensed kōhanga and its work with children, take part in management and decision-making or participate in and monitor programmes.

Another key mechanism used to ensure that licensed kōhanga meet the minimum regulated standards of education and care, is external evaluation by the Education Review Office (ERO). Review reports prepared by ERO are used by staff, management, whānau and government officials to inform their understanding of the quality of care and education in licensed centres and the sector as a whole.

The legal framework described above provides a baseline for all service providers (the body, agency, or person who or that operates the licensed centre). ERO wants to know that the licensed service provider (for the purposes of this document - the holder of a licence; and in relation to a licensed kōhanga means the holder of a licence in relation to the kōhanga reo affiliated with Te Kōhanga Reo National Trust) is taking all reasonable steps to meet the minimum standards with which it must comply in order to ensure the health, comfort, care, education, and safety of children attending licensed kōhanga.

High quality evaluation contributing to high quality education

Licensing and Compliance Issues

Kōhanga must meet licensing criteria as well as other regulatory requirements contained in the regulations in order to gain and maintain a licence and receive Government funding.

The Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008, should therefore be read in conjunction with the Licensing Criteria for Kōhanga Reo affiliated with Te Kōhanga Reo National Trust 2008 and the Early Childhood Education Curriculum Framework.

Compliance with regulatory requirements is clearly an integral part of the provision of high quality care and education. In all licensed kōhanga, compliance with regulatory requirements is one strand of the review.

ERO places significant reliance on the information given by licensed service providers as to whether or not they are taking all reasonable steps to meet their legal obligations.

Licensed service providers and whānau management are asked to provide assurance to ERO about legal compliance. Where there are areas of non-compliance, service providers will be asked to advise what action they are taking to achieve compliance.

In order to help with this process, ERO has developed these Guidelines for Licensed Kōhanga Whānau Assurance Statement and Self-Audit Checklists that contain:

- a brief outline of the regulatory requirements with which licensed kōhanga service providers must comply that are of key interest to ERO;
- checklists to be filled out by service providers and whānau management as part of a self-review process to assist ERO in determining whether the service provider is complying with regulatory requirements; and
- an assurance statement to be signed by the service provider and the appropriate person on behalf of whānau management that provides evidence of its compliance (or not) with regulatory requirements.

The completed checklists and assurance statement are used by ERO to help the scoping and planning stages of the review.

Note: The Guidelines for Licensed Kōhanga Whānau Assurance Statement and the Self-Audit Checklists are not intended to be exhaustive of all relevant legislation and requirements (such as those provided in Ministry of Education Circulars and other documents). Information in the Guidelines may not represent the official version of Acts, Regulations and other legal requirements. Where appropriate, the Guidelines refer to good practice guidance from the Ministry of Education, Early Childhood Education website – <https://www.education.govt.nz>, and service providers should refer to this website for further guidance.

Introduction

Education and Training Act 2020

Statement of National Education and Learning Priorities [NELPS]

The Statement of National Education and Learning Priorities (NELP) sets out the Government's priorities for education that will ensure the success and wellbeing of all learners. They are statutory documents issued under the Education and Training Act 2020 that direct government and education sector activities towards the actions that will make the biggest difference, and ensuring that we are able to strengthen the education system to deliver successful outcomes for all learners/ākonga.

The NELP's will help create education environments that are learner-centred, and where more of our learners, and especially more of our Māori and Pacific learners, are successful. Therefore, they encourage all places of learning to focus on:

- ensuring that they are safe and inclusive and free from racism, discrimination, and bullying
- strengthening the quality of teaching our learners receive to giving our learners the skills they need to succeed in education, work and life
- collaborating more with whānau, employers, industry and communities
- taking account of learners' needs, identities, languages and cultures in their practice, and
- incorporating te reo Māori and tikanga Māori into everyday activities.

Early Childhood Education Curriculum Framework

The Early Childhood Curriculum Framework (Curriculum Framework) for licensed centres is based on Te Whāriki: He Whāriki Mātauranga mō ngā Mokopuna o Aotearoa, which is New Zealand's curriculum for early childhood education. Te Whāriki sets out the learning experience goals for children from birth up to school age. It identifies what a child needs to know and use later in life. It is envisioned as a mat with four principles interwoven with five strands.<sup>5</sup>

The four Principles are about:

- Empowerment / Whakamana - giving the child the power to learn and grow
- Holistic Development / Kotahitanga - learning as a whole rather than in separate subjects
- Family and Community / Whānau Tangata - linking with the child's family and community
- Relationships / Ngā Hononga - learning by responding and doing things alongside others.

The five Strands are about:

- Well-being / Mana Atua - having a safe and healthy environment in which to grow and learn
- Belonging / Mana Whenua - feeling like they belong
- Contribution / Mana Tangata - feeling valued and encouraged to take responsibility
- Communication / Mana Reo - learning to express themselves with others in a variety of ways
- Exploration / Mana Aotūroa - learning by doing.

The purpose of the Curriculum Framework is to provide the basis and context for specific curriculum regulatory requirements in the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008 relating to the standards of education and care and to the associated curriculum criteria. The Curriculum Framework is made up of the English and te reo Māori versions of the Principles and Strands from Te Whāriki.

Each licensed kōhanga will develop its own programmes to implement Te Whāriki. The Licensing Criteria for Early Childhood Education and Care Centres outlines how service providers must comply with the standards.

The licensed service provider must implement the Principles and Strands set out in the Part C of the Education Early Childhood Curriculum Framework as gazetted in the New Zealand Gazette No 136 dated 4 September 2008 at page 3617 refer to the MOE – Early Childhood Education website – [www.education.govt.nz], or the Department of Internal Affairs' web-site www.dia.govt.nz and search under New Zealand Gazette On-line.

The service provider is also required to meet the curriculum standard under regulation 43 of the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008, and produce specific documentation to demonstrate compliance with the Licensing Criteria for Early Childhood Education and Care Centres 2008 consistent with the prescribed curriculum framework to assess the curriculum standard.

The curriculum standard in regulation 43 of the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008 is set out below, followed by the criteria against which compliance will be assessed.

Regulation 43 - Curriculum standard: general

- (1) The curriculum standard: general is the standard that requires every licensed service provider to whom this regulation applies to—

Building Act 2004

The Building Act establishes a series of minimum safety standards (building regulations), which must be complied with. The purpose of these regulations is to ensure all new buildings and alterations are constructed to a standard that ensures the safety of the occupants.

The purposes of the Building Act 2004 (Section 3) are to provide for the regulation of building work, the establishment of a licensing regime for building practitioners, and the setting of performance standards for buildings, to ensure that-

- (a) people who use buildings can do so safely and without endangering their health; and
- (b) buildings have attributes that contribute appropriately to the health, physical independence, and well-being of the people who use them; and
- (c) people who use a building can escape from the building if it is on fire; and
- (d) buildings are designed, constructed, and able to be used in ways that promote sustainable development.

Sections 118 to 120 of the Building Act require building owners to ensure access, facilities and signage are in place to cater for the needs of disabled staff, children and visitors when constructing a new building or altering any building.

Criterion PF3 requires licensed kōhanga to conform to any relevant bylaws of the local authority and the Building Act 2004.

Licensed kōhanga are also required to have the following documentation:

2. Current Annual Building Warrant of Fitness (if the premises require a compliance schedule under section 100 of the Building Act 2004).

Resource Management Act 1991

This Act may require compliance before the premises are used as a licensed kōhanga and before its buildings are altered or extended. This is the responsibility of the owner of the proposed premises.

In addition, the service provider must comply with the certification criteria and produce supporting documentation as set out in the Licensing Criteria for Kōhanga Reo affiliated with Te Kōhanga Reo National Trust 2008 – Health and safety practices standard.

The minimum health and safety practices standard: general in regulation 46 of the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008 is set out below, followed by a summary of the criteria against which compliance will be assessed.

  - (c) take all reasonable steps to ensure that the premises, facilities, and other equipment on those premises are—
    - (i) kept in good repair; and
    - (ii) maintained regularly; and
    - (iii) used safely and kept free from hazards; and

- (3) The direction must include the date by which the service provider is to have remedied the immediate health and safety risk, which must be a date no later than 10 working days after the date of the direction.
- (4) For the avoidance of doubt, a failure to comply with a written direction under this regulation may result in the reclassification of the service's licence as a provisional licence under regulation 15 or the suspension of the service's licence under regulation 30.
- (5) This regulation does not limit the powers of the Secretary to reclassify a licence as a provisional licence under regulation 15 or suspend a licence under regulation 30.

Children’s Act 2014 – Child Protection Policy

The Children’s Act 2014 requires state sector agencies who work with children, and the organizations they fund, to have child protection policies. As ECE services are funded by the Ministry of Education, service providers will need to work towards meeting these requirements. The policy needs to contain provisions on the identification and reporting of child abuse and neglect. New guidelines have been launched to help service providers.<sup>6</sup> The guidelines include a review tool to help identify gaps in current policies, information about what to include in a new policy, and example policies.

Food Act 2014

ECE services that provide meals to children will need to meet the requirements of National Programme 2 under the Food Act. Services that only carry out minimal food handling (example cutting fruit and providing crackers and spreads) or where children bring lunchboxes are exempt from the Food Act.<sup>7</sup>

Health and Safety at Work Act 2015<sup>8</sup>

Under this Act, the ECE service as the person conducting a business or undertaking (PCBU) holds the primary duty of care for, and manages risks to, the health and safety of workers and others arising from the work of the school. The ECE service will exercise its primary duty of care by ensuring the health and safety of:

- its workers (e.g. teachers, managers, administrators, volunteer workers etc.) while at service and on excursions and outside the ECE premises
- other workers who are influenced or directed by the ECE service
- others (e.g. students/children, parents, members of the public, and visitors to the premises), by ensuring they are not put at risk from work carried out by the ECE service.

Officers are individual members of the ECE service occupying a position that allows them to exercise significant influence over the management of the service. It will depend on the size and structure of the individual service, and whether the individual exercises significant influence over the management of the ECE service. Their role is to exercise due diligence, which means that they must take reasonable steps to ensure that the ECE service (as the PCBU) meets its health and safety obligations.

There are a number of things your ECE service can do to comply:

- familiarise yourself with the key requirements of the legislation
- review your health and safety policies and practices
- identify health and safety risks in your workplace (a workplace includes any place where a worker goes, or is likely to be, while at work) and take all practicable steps to prevent these from causing harm

Fire and Emergency New Zealand Act 2017/Fire and Emergency NZ (Fire Safety, Evacuation Procedures and Evacuation Schemes) Regulations 2018

The Fire and Emergency NZ (Fire Safety, Evacuation Procedures, and Evacuation Schemes) Regulations 2018 came into force on 1 July 2018 and are made under the Fire and Emergency NZ Act 2017 (the Act). The regulations require each kōhanga to provide an evacuation procedure for the safe, expeditious and efficient evacuation of the occupants of a kōhanga in the event of a fire, and staff to be trained to assist others to evacuate in accordance with the approved evacuation procedure for the kōhanga.

Service providers must also ensure that there exists for the kōhanga an operative evacuation scheme for public safety that meets the requirements of the Act.

The kōhanga premises must have a current Fire Evacuation Scheme documentation approved by Fire and Emergency New Zealand [FENZ] (Criterion HS4 of the Health and Safety practices standard).

Trial evacuations are required at intervals of not more than 6 months [Regulation 29(1)(a)] and at any other additional time as required by FENZ, and notices are required to be posted in buildings showing how to get out of the building and the evacuation procedure. FENZ must be notified of the result of all trial evacuations (Regulation 32).

Evacuation Scheme application forms are available from the local Area Fire Safety Department of Fire and Emergency New Zealand.

Building (Pools) Amendment Act 2016

The above Act came into effect on 1 January 2017 and repealed the Fencing of Swimming Pools Act 1987 and included new pool safety provisions in the Building Act 2004.

The following information is from MOE website:

Smokefree Environments and Regulated Products Act 1990

The above Act requires kōhanga to have smoke-free and vaping buildings and grounds at all times. The total smoking and vaping ban includes kōhanga grounds during weekend sports games, fund-raising activities, community days or evening classes, as well as when the grounds or buildings are rented out by other groups. Kōhanga management should also display smoke-free and vaping notices at every entry gate or building entrance, and that they take all reasonably practicable steps to ensure there is no smoking and vaping on their premises.

No vaping notices

As of 11 May 2021, all schools, early childhood education facilities and care centres must display a notice stating that smoking and vaping within the premises is forbidden at all times.

Make sure that the surface is clean and prominently display the stickers on windows or doors at or immediately inside:

- every entrance to the premises
- every entrance to every building or enclosed area on the premises, excluding buildings and areas not usually in use.

These locations are the same as previously required for Smokefree notices under the Smoke-free Environments Act. The 'no vaping' notices are intended to be displayed along with existing 'no smoking' notices.

Civil Defence

Kōhanga management should document a written procedure, and basic supplies for dealing with emergencies that are consistent with National or Regional Civil Defence guidelines (see Criterion HS7 of the Health and safety practices standard) to provide a safe environment for children and parents who are present. The building you meet in should have a civil defence emergency kit.

Adults providing education and care must be familiar with relevant emergency drills and regularly carry these out with the children. The centre should have documentation of a record of emergency drills carried out with children (Criterion HS8 of the Health and Safety practices standard).

Children's worker – Safety Checks<sup>11</sup>

Children's worker safety checks became law in the Children's Act 2014 (the CA), and applies to new workers in core children's workforce roles.

Briefly, the following checks must have been completed where the service provider is seeking to employ or engage a new children's worker<sup>12</sup> (including as a contractor) for core children's workforce roles, and for non-core children's workforce roles:

- Identity verification - proof people are who they say they are, including previous identities
- Information requirement – reliable information about history and behaviour, which may include reference checks, interviews, and Police vetting
- Risk assessment – considered judgement based on the information collected
- Periodic re-checking – information to be updated and reassessed every three years.

The CA prohibits people with certain child abuse, sexual offending, or violence convictions from working in core worker roles. These are specified in the Act. Anyone convicted of the offences listed in the Act will not be able to work in core worker roles unless they are granted an exemption. The Ministry of Social Development manages applications for exemptions.

Fit and Proper Persons

Regulation 8 of the Education (Early Childhood Services) Regulations 2008 requires the Secretary for Education to consider whether the service provider is a fit and proper person, based on matters which are identical to those set out in the statutory declaration made by the service provider at the time of application for licence under Regulation 7.

Under Regulation 35, the service provider who has applied for a licence or is the holder of a current licence must advise the Secretary for Education, as soon as practicable, of any change of their circumstances of the kind referred to in Regulation 7 and made in the statutory declaration, which among other things, includes any previous conviction for any offence involving harm to children, violence, or fraud.

Human Rights Act 1993

The Human Rights Act is designed to help ensure that people are treated fairly. It prohibits certain discriminatory practices in relation to the employment and treatment of employees. The grounds of discrimination in section 21 of the Act include religious belief, ethical belief, colour, race, ethnic or national origins, disability, age, political opinion, sex, employment status, family status, sexual orientation and marital status.

Discrimination can be direct or indirect. Direct discrimination occurs when a person is treated unfairly or less favourably than another person in the same or similar circumstances. Indirect discrimination occurs when an action or policy that appears to treat everyone in the same way, actually has a discriminatory effect on a person or group.

Kōhanga Whānau management have obligations to ensure staff are not subjected to sexual harassment. Under the Human Rights Act, employers can be liable for sexual harassment committed by their employees. Kōhanga Whānau management can work towards providing a safe physical and emotional learning environment for all by developing prevention of sexual harassment policies and procedures for children and employees.

The Act uses an expanded definition of 'employment'. It applies to employees, voluntary workers, people seeking work, and contract workers. This means the Act applies to a number of people who are not covered by other employment legislation, such as the Employment Relations Act 2000, which only applies to employees. The Act covers advertisements, job applicants, employment opportunities and conditions for employees and how employees leave their employment.

Section 102 of the Employment Relations Act 2000 provides for personal grievances under that Act. Under section 103 a personal grievance can be made because of sexual harassment by an employer or a representative of an employer.

Employment Relations Act 2000

The object of the Employment Relations Act 2000 is to build employment relationships through the promotion of good faith in all aspects of the employment environment and of the employment relationship.

The Teaching Council is responsible for the issue and renewal of practising certificates under Part 5, Subpart 4—Teaching Council of the Education and Training Act 2020.

The Code of Professional Responsibility<sup>14</sup> applies to all certified teachers and those who have been granted a Limited Authority to Teach, in every role and teaching context. It is a set of aspirations for professional behaviour, and is binding on all teachers who hold a practicing certificate and all authorised persons.
