2 ERO's Judgements

Akarangi | Quality Evaluations evaluate the extent to which early childhood services have the learning and organisational conditions to support equitable and excellent outcomes for all learners. Te Ara Poutama Indicators of quality for early childhood education: what matters most and Early Childhood Education \(ECE\) Improvement Framework \(teacher led services\) are the basis for making judgements about the quality of the service in achieving equity and excellence for all learners. Evaluations for improvement | Ngā Aronga Whai Hua is integrated across all of the above domains.

3 About the Service

Raphael House Kindergarten is one of two services governed by the Wellington Rudolf Steiner Kindergarten Trust (the Trust). The Trust assumed governance responsibility in 2023. A manager oversees both services. The kindergarten provides education and care for children aged from four to six years. A new head teacher leads the curriculum and daily operations. Since the previous ERO report there have been significant changes to the teaching team.

4 Progress since the previous ERO report

There are no key next steps in the May 2022 Akanuku | Assurance Review report. Two areas of non-compliance in relation to emergency planning have been satisfactorily addressed.

5 Learning Conditions

The learner and their learning | He Whāriki Motuhake

Children experience a curriculum that embodies the Rudolf Steiner philosophy and reflects Te Whāriki, the early childhood curriculum.

- The curriculum successfully promotes children's developing social and emotional competence and independence within a Rudolf Steiner approach of routine and rituals. Assessment of children's learning is yet to consistently show their progress over time, their home languages, and their parents' aspirations.
- Seasonal and daily rhythms effectively encourage children's exploration, wondering and creativity.
- Relationships are highly valued, and children experience sustained interactions with their teachers and other children.

Collaborative professional learning and development builds knowledge and capability | Whakangungu Ngaio

Leaders and teachers continue to build their professional knowledge and cultural competence to design and implement the curriculum.

- Practices to implement a culturally rich curriculum for all children are developing across the new teaching team. Leaders and teachers engage in relevant professional learning and development to grow their practice.
- Leaders and teachers participate in a professional growth cycle designed to build their capability. While they actively reflect on aspects of their practice, they are yet to identify the impact of their new learning on improvements to teaching practice and outcomes for learners.
- Ongoing internal evaluation is in place, focussing on aspects of the curriculum and health and safety. The service is in the early stages of developing its understanding of internal evaluation for ongoing improvement.

6 Organisational conditions

Leadership fosters collaboration and improvement | Kaihautū

The service is establishing the conditions to develop leadership capability to support quality teaching.

- Leaders collaboratively develop and enact the strategic and improvement plan. They are yet to identify the impact of these improvements and actions on service priorities and outcomes for learners.
- Strategies to support children's seamless transitions into the service and on to school are successfully established.
- Leaders appropriately align resources to support the service's philosophy and priorities for children's learning.

Stewardship through effective governance and management | Te Whakaruruhau

The organisation is taking steps to implement policies and procedures to align all aspects of service operations to guide practice.

- Governance and management facilitate collaboration between the service and the wider Rudolf Steiner community to support children's ongoing learning and wellbeing.
- Trustees are well informed about operational matters. It is timely to strengthen reporting about children's progress and learning in relation to service priorities to better support responsive decision-making.
- Increased understanding and monitoring of the licensing criteria is required.

7 Management Assurance on Legal Requirements

Before the review, the staff and management of Raphael House Kindergarten completed an ERO Assurance Statement and Self-Audit Checklist. In these documents they attested that they have taken have all reasonable steps to meet their legal obligations related to:

- curriculum
- premises and facilities
- health and safety practices
- governance, management and administration.

During the review, ERO looked at the service's system for managing the following areas that have a potentially high impact on children's health and safety:

- emotional safety (including positive guidance and child protection)
- physical safety (including supervision; sleep procedures; accidents; medication; excursion policies and procedures)
- suitable staffing (safety checking of staff, ratios)
- relevant evacuation procedures and practices.

All early childhood services are required to promote children's health and safety and to regularly review their compliance with legal requirements.

8 Where to next for improvement?

Raphael House Kindergarten will include the following actions in its quality improvement planning:

- Use Te Whāriki learning outcomes to inform assessment, planning and evaluation guidelines so leaders and teachers can effectively show children's learning and development over time against these learning outcomes.
- Build leaders' and teachers' knowledge and understanding to implement a culturally rich curriculum that responds to all children's languages, cultures and identities.
- Identify and report on the impact of improvement actions on priorities for children's learning and wellbeing.

Activities undertaken by the evaluation team

- Pre-visit contact with the service provider/manager.
- Reading documentation and records of children's learning and development.
- Scanning the learning environment and resources.
- Observations of interactions and teaching practice while onsite.
- Meetings and / or conversations with leaders and teachers.
- Sampling of information related to compliance.
